Developer Review Panel work plan and stakeholder engagement plan released

Purpose

To advise that the Developer Review Panel (the Panel) has published its work plan and stakeholder engagement plan, in accordance with its Terms of Reference.

Background

The Panel has been appointed under the Queensland Building and Construction Commission Act 1991 to conduct a review of the role of developers in the building and construction industry.

The review follows a recommendation by the Parliamentary Transport and Public Works Committee that consideration be given to developers' financial and operational capacity, ethical behaviour, and work practices.

The Panel will:

- advance the work already done by the Queensland Government to support security of payment in the building and construction industry
- consider the impact developers have on the quality and safety of design, construction and certification of buildings and other work practices.

Governance documents

In accordance with the Terms of Reference for the review, the Panel has developed governance documentation, including a work plan and a stakeholder engagement plan. These plans will assist the Panel in delivering its report and recommendations to the Queensland Government.

The Panel's work plan sets out the key areas of focus for the review and provides a timeline for the Panel's activities. The Panel's stakeholder engagement plan seeks to ensure that all interested industry and community stakeholders have the opportunity to contribute to the review.
