National Construction Code (NCC) 2022 – Free Webinar Series

Purpose

To advise industry and the community that registration is open for the NCC 2022 Webinar Series scheduled for 20 to 24 March 2023. The free online sessions will cover key changes and new provisions in NCC 2022 Volume One and Volume Two for energy efficiency, condensation management and livable housing design.

This is an opportunity for you to learn about what has changed, and what it means to you, your industry and your community, before the 2022 edition of the NCC is adopted on 1 May 2023.

The Department of Energy and Public Works encourages you to book early for these free sessions as spaces are limited.

Session topics

The Australian Building Codes Board (ABCB) will present a number of seminars covering the following topics:

- NCC 2022 housing energy efficiency
- NCC 2022 apartment energy efficiency
- NCC 2022 commercial energy efficiency
- NCC 2022 condensation management
- NCC 2022 and NatHERS tools
- NCC 2022 livable housing design

Background

On 26 August 2022, a majority of Building Ministers agreed to introduce Modern Homes standards that cover both residential energy efficiency and accessible housing in NCC 2022. For more information read the Building Minister's Meeting: Communiqué August 2022.

The NCC 2022 will generally take effect from 1 May 2023, with the Modern Homes standards set to be transitioned for commencement from 1 October 2023.

NCC 2022 is available on the ABCB website.
